The holiday season is always a good time to reflect on the blessings we have in our lives: our families and friends, our communities, our country. And, of course, being part of a not-for-profit electric cooperative that feels like family.

The past year has offered its share of challenges as the nation emerges from the Covid-19 pandemic. Supply chain shortages and economic inflation have caused a good amount of anxiety. Everyone is being forced to do more with less.

I know this year's power cost adjustment increases were of great concern to our members. We always try to keep our rates as low as possible, but increases were unavoidable in the face of a 300 percent increase in the cost of natural gas, which Seminole Electric uses to generate a sizable portion of the wholesale electricity it provides. However, that market has recently improved, and we are pleased to be able to lower the PCA by 6.25 percent in December. This means members using the household average of 1,000 kilowatt hours of power will pay $149.90, a savings of $10. This is a step in the right direction.

Even with all the fluctuation, the cost of electricity remains a great value considering all the ways we depend on it. We will continually strive to maintain costs and provide competitive rates.

Remember, we're a not-for-profit co-op, which means we provide service at cost. Many of you receive a Capital Credits refund credit or check each year. These refunds are a reflection of our not-for-profit status, and an important co-op benefit. In March, $12 million was returned to members.

Speaking of member benefits, 2022 was our 11th year of providing you with the Co-op Connections Card program. As a co-op, we believe our commitment to you means being more than a power provider. Our participation in the Connections Card program is a moneysaving tool we are proud to offer. Our members have saved more than $220,000 on prescription drug costs alone.

We also continue to help hundreds of members a year with energy efficiency and energy conservation information. We offer free home energy surveys to all members to assist you with recommendations that can help you get the most out of your energy dollars. To help you make energy-efficient upgrades to your home, we provide rebates when you purchase certain products.

The co-op is working diligently to improve your member experience through electronic communication. This year, we deployed two new systems to benefit our members. We now provide proactive outage communication, which means that during an outage, impacted members who are enrolled in MyClayElectric will automatically receive outage emails. Push notifications are also sent to members who use the app. We also offered members a way to prepay for electric service for the first time.

With so many of our systems dependent on technology, cybersecurity is an ever-present concern. We continue to evaluate, test and strengthen our systems and network against cyberattacks.

Beyond electricity, part of our mission includes improving the quality of life of members and communities. Operation Round Up, a program that generates and collects charitable donations that are used to benefit organizations in the co-op's service area, launched in October 2016. To date, a little more than $5 million has been distributed. Almost $900,000 was donated in 2022 alone. Employees also put their own time and money toward many important causes in their communities.

We, like many businesses, had to adjust our expectations in 2022, but our mission of providing you with safe, reliable and affordable electricity was steadfast. As we begin to think about 2023, we resolve to strive for continuous improvement in all we do.

It is indeed a blessing to have your family as part of our cooperative family. May your holiday season be filled with love, light, and hope for the new year.

Power cost decreases $10 on December bills

Members will be billed less for power in December thanks to a reduction in the Power Cost Adjustment on bills. Members using the industry household average of 1,000 kWh of power will now pay $149.90. The previous cost was $159.50. The cooperative is able to lower the cost of power due to a slight decrease in the price of natural gas, which Seminole Electric Cooperative (Clay's wholesale power provider) uses to generate a sizable portion of the wholesale electricity it provides.

"We're pleased to be able to lower the PCA in time for the holidays," said General Manager/CEO Ricky Davis.

The PCA is a separate line item on each Clay Electric statement, which reflects the increases/decreases in the co-op's cost of power. The cost of wholesale power is more than 70 percent of Clay's total expenses.

When the cost of power is greater than the amount included in the base rate, the PCA is a charge. When the cost is less, it's a credit.

As a not-for-profit cooperative, Clay Electric members receive power at cost.

Adult members receive college scholarships

For the first time, five Clay Electric members are the recipients of the co-op's Back to Your Future Scholarships for 2023.

For more than 20 years, the co-op has been providing college scholarships for deserving high school students. Eight years ago, the co-op was able to expand that effort to provide this scholarship for students over the age of 22. At least two scholarships are awarded each year, but funding was available for five this fall.

Applicants were scored based on financial need, educational goals and career plans, and leadership and/or community service.

Elizabeth McLaughlin accepts her scholarship from Jordan Wade of the Lake City District Office.
